West Virginia's Integrated Behavioral Health Conference is a learning opportunity that will promote the integration of the various component parts of behavioral health, as well as integration of behavioral health with physical health/primary care.

Special events include an opening ceremony with the Honorable Governor Earl Ray Tomblin (invited) and West Virginia Department of Health and Human Resources Cabinet Secretary Karen L. Bowling, a free session on how to keep kids safe online and a free concert open to the public featuring Templeton Thompson.

"The IBHC was an enormous success! The presenters/workshops and takeaways were invaluable on multiple levels—educational, inspiring, and fostered a unique opportunity..." (2013 IBHC Participant)
