

WEST VIRGINIA OUTBREAK GRAPHS

LAST UPDATED: DECEMBER 2013

Confirmed Outbreaks by Month of Report West Virginia, 2009 - 2013 (n=704)

The figure above shows the number of confirmed outbreaks by month of report in West Virginia during 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012, and 2013.
This graph is updated on a monthly basis

Confirmed Outbreak by Type and Month of Report West Virginia, 2013 (n=165)

The figure above shows the number of confirmed outbreaks by type of outbreak and month of report in West Virginia in 2013. Types of outbreaks are classified into four main categories (Respiratory, Enteric, Rash and others).

This graph is updated on a monthly basis

Confirmed Healthcare-Associated Outbreaks by Month of Report, West Virginia, 2009 - 2013 (n=409)

The figure above shows the number of confirmed Healthcare-associated outbreaks by month of report in West Virginia during 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012, and 2013.
This graph is updated on a monthly basis

Healthcare-Associated Outbreaks By Type and Month of Report, West Virginia, 2013 (n= 123)

The figure above shows the number of confirmed Healthcare-associated outbreaks by type of outbreak and month of report in West Virginia in 2013. Types of outbreaks are classified into four main categories (Respiratory, Enteric, Multi-Drug Resistant Organisms (MDROs), and Rash). MDRO outbreaks can be respiratory illness, enteric illness, urinary tract infection, skin infection, or any other infections. Outbreaks categorized as MDROs are not counted under other categories..

This graph is updated on a monthly basis

Confirmed Outbreaks by Region, West Virginia, January-December, 2013 (n=160*)

The figure above shows the number of outbreaks reported in 2013 by surveillance region in West Virginia.
This graph is updated on a monthly basis