

Radio Liners 2014

Radio Drops (for local school districts to give to their local radio stations)

1. If your child is just starting school, or getting ready to enter 7th or 12th grade, make sure you give them a good shot at life. In this case, shots that will protect them from childhood diseases. Certain shots are required for all children entering school as well as students going on to 7th and 12 grades. They can't get into school without them. So, avoid the last minute rush at your doctor's office and make sure they have those life-saving shots.
2. It's that time of year again when we're all getting ready to send our kids back to school. Remember, if your child is starting Kindergarten, 7th or 12th grade in West Virginia, they have shot requirements. Avoid the last minute rush and ask your doctor or local health department if your child has the shots they need for school.
